

A Psychos Guide to Dating Women

A Psychos Guide(tm) to Dating Women is written satirically by John Megara in the same style as the Dummies and Complete Idiots guidebooks, however instead of giving advice to stupid people, it is directed at the insane. With chapter headings such as Work Out Five Hours a Day, Change Your Name to Constance, and Lie Your Face Off, Megaras dark comedy contains a blistering attack on the shallowness of modern romance. The books twenty-five-year-old narrator is so determined to avoid the psychological perils of dating that he follows superficial courting rules that govern nearly his entire existence. However, when the narrator struggles with the morality of his actions and confronts his own appearance-obsessed neurosis, one questions whether he is truly evil. Perhaps he has simply been broken by a courting system that no longer functions according to its original purpose.
