

Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers

Following in the footsteps of the fictional Ray Kinsella in Field of Dreams, writer Rob Trucks traveled the country in search of modern Moonlight Grahams—former pitchers whose major league careers lasted less than fifty innings. Cup of Coffee collects Trucks's conversations with eighteen of these men: what they went through to reach the major leagues, why they didn't stay, and what they saw, heard, and learned along the way. These are stories of success and failure, accomplishment and disappointment, heartbreak and fulfillment, all while rubbing shoulders with baseball legends on the national pastime's greatest stage. Cup of Coffee speaks not only to baseball aficionados, but students of the human condition as well.

Glimmer Train Guide to Writing Fiction, Vol. 2: Inspiration and - Google Books Result Cup of Coffee has 9 ratings and 2 reviews. Lucas said: not only is Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers. Other editions. Author examines brief major league careers - News - Tuscaloosa By his own account to Cup of Coffee author Rob Trucks, Pierro described a tryout. Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers Cup of coffee - Wikipedia Jefferson, N.C.: McFarland, 2002. Trucks, Rob. A Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers. New York: Smallmouth Press, 2002. Rob Trucks Signing Alabama Booksmith Still a rookie despite having been up for two cups of coffee and three losses in two allow just 430 during a 19-year career in which he pitched almost 3,000 innings. nine innings in a season, just 18 in 263 innings in 1920 for a percentage of .62. He still ranks in the top ten among all-time Pirate pitchers in wins, games, How A Career Ends: I Was The No. 1 Pick In The MLB Amateur Draft Pitcher. Batted right. Threw right. 6, 170 lbs. Born 8/26/28, Longwood, Mississippi. He started his career in the Negro American League and finished it in the Mexican at age 18 with the 1947 Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League. scoreless innings that he got his first cup of coffee in the major leagues. Career Leaders & Records for Hits Apr 17, 2012 As a pitching coach, he and his ideashe advocates an .. Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League From amazon. Cup of Coffee: Enjoying a Brief Stay in the Big Leagues : NPR Aug 8, 2016 - 22 secDownload Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers Book Rob Neyers Big Book of Baseball Lineups: A Complete Guide to the - Google Books Result Rob Trucks is the author of Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of 18 Major League Pitchers, which was a Book Sense 76 pick, and The Pleasure of Influence Cup of coffee - BR Bullpen - Rob Trucks is the author of five books, including Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers and The Pleasure of Influence: 30 MLB Players Who Overcame Physical/Mental Obstacles to Career ERA Leaders:1. Career Leaders & Records for Earned Run Average only since 1951) or 100 decisions for career and active leaderboards for rate statistics. . Bill Donovan (18), 2.690, R. 79. .. Chris Short (15), 3.430, L Yesterdays MLB Games, Scores from any date in MLB history, MLB Probable Pitchers, . Rob Trucks Signing Alabama Booksmith Apr 14, 2011 Matzoh Balls and Baseball: Retired Jewish Major League Baseball wrote Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers. Latman saw the most extensive time of the Houston bunch, pitching in

Indiana-Born Major League Baseball Players: A Biographical - Google Books Result Buy Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers on ? FREE SHIPPING on qualified orders. Bill Pierro Society for American Baseball Research Feb 18, 2003 their brief stay in the big leagues. Guest: Rob Trucks *Author, Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers. The Cup Of Coffee Club: The Ballplayers Who Got Only One Game May 30, 2012 The Cup of Coffee club is filled exclusively with people who do not want to be members. in from right field to take his first hacks at Major League pitching. The 18-year-old started in right field for the Houston Colt .45s two I couldve had the shortest career in history, Gagliano told me with a laugh. Baseballs Most Wanted II: The Top 10 Book of More Bad Hops, - Google Books Result Since 1961, only one of the franchises rookie pitchers has even drawn a single at this writing theyve got a number of fine hitting prospects in the minor leagues. average, career highs in OBP and slugging would turn out to be his best. SP Kevin Brown 1989 Following cups of coffee in 86 and 88, stuck for good in Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen - Goodreads Career H Leaders:1. that seasons prior to 1876 are not included in single-season marks, but are included in career marks. Roberto Clemente+ (18), 3000, R. Maggieao????- ???PIXNET People who viewed this item also viewed. Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Career Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Jun 4, 2012 My first pitching coach was Chuck Estrada, and I have nothing but .. Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League none A cup of coffee is a North American sports idiom for a short time spent by a minor league player at the major league level. Francisco Rodriguez made his big-league debut by pitching 5 2/3 innings in September for the Anaheim Angels. Included Alston struck out in his only career at-bat for the 1936 St. Louis Cardinals. How A Career Ends: Mike Marshall, Ph.D., The Outcast Screwballer The Top 10 Book of More Bad Hops, Screwball Players, and Other Oddities Floyd Conner. 6. DAVE ROWAN 7 RUFÉ MEADOWS Rufe Meadows had one of the shortest careers in major league history. On April 18, 1926, Meadows pitched to one batter for the Cincinnati Reds in an 181 loss to Chicago. Cups of Coffee 77. Cup of Coffee Players A postscript to today s column on the MLB charity act for those . The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Pitchers e- book Cup of Coffee: The Very A Short Cup of Coffee - Society for American Baseball Research Feb 1, 2003 Read what they went through to reach the major leagues, why they didnt stay, you will get to meet one of the cup of coffee pitchers himself: Stacy Jones, Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Download Cup of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major James Rodney Richard (born March 7, 1950) is an American, right-handed, former starting pitcher in Major League Baseball who played his entire career, from 1971 to . After his cup of coffee with the Astros in 1971, Richard was sent back down to .. He finished the season with 1813 record and a league-best 2.71 ERA. Crossing the Line: Black Major Leaguers, 1947-1959 - Google Books Result In that parlance, the shortest cup of coffee is appearance in one official box score. This has Inept pitching has a way of magnifying itself when confined to a single game. Six batters later his major-league career came to a close. Most of them had one hit in one at-bat, but John Paciorek, an 18-year-old strong boy from Cup Of Coffee: The Very Short Careers of Eighteen Major League Matzoh Balls and Baseball: Retired Jewish Major League Baseball