

Sasquatch Tool Use: Groundbreaking Research by David A. Claerr

Recent DNA sequencing of Sasquatch, also known as Bigfoot has revealed mitochondrial DNA with the same configuration as modern humans. In researching areas of Central Texas, David Claerr has found very strong evidence that the Sasquatch use tools made of flint, bone, antler and wood. In this interesting and engaging account, Mr. Claerr details one of his many expeditions and the discoveries made at that time.
