

Fish Lizard Monkey Boy

Where do we come from? Why are we the way we are? Why do we have two legs and two arms? Why not two heads and three mouths? Perhaps wheels instead of feet? At bath time one evening, a little boy questions one of the great wonders of the world - where did we come from? His mum has some surprising answers for him.

This sweet, poetic story for young children introduces the concept of human evolution and the strange wonder of our existence on planet Earth. It starts a journey of discovery that delves into human origins and marvels at how amazing we are as a species. It will inspire young children's curiosity and imagination.
