

Fast-paced science fiction with a fascinating twist. After leaving the scene of his friend BJs death, Peter, along with one of his colleagues in the Physics Department at the USC, harnesses the weightless qualities of a newly discovered particle. He plans to ricochet an intense beam of light through a black hole, back in time, with a message designed to save BJs life. But will it work? Or could the ripple in time affect more than just BJ? A terrorist ring is determined to heist his invention. The very economy of the United States is at stake.
