

Its All Crap

The Emperors New Clothes is the greatest fairy tale ever written, illustrating perfectly the human tendency to lose sight of reason and to embrace the irrational against our better judgement. We defer to the experts and are influenced by them, even if what they say doesnt feel right to us. We believe what we are told by religious texts and religious leaders, teachers, doctors, therapists, politicians, the media, and we rarely question the assumptions, values and beliefs of our own culture. Yet applying simple reasoning to any of these areas often reveals a truth that was obvious all along. The Emperor has nothing on no matter what authority or how many people say otherwise. Put simply, much, if not most of what we are asked to believe is Crap. This book uses reason to show why religion is crap, medicine is crap, alternative medicine is crap, psychotherapy is crap, conspiracy theory is crap, schooling is crap, work is crap, economics and politics are crap, the media is crap. In fact Its All Crap!
