

A Better Mousetrap

Aubrey Fielding is an inventive man. He isn't at all happy with how his employers plan to use his latest idea. That, along with other problems, sends him off travelling, to escape. But due to the better mousetrap he has invented, unwelcome inhabitants of the world beat a path to his new door. His inventiveness is put at full stretch to get out of the entanglement he finds himself in and to protect those close to him. The story ranges from Berkshire to Perth via the Western Australian bush, the Swan River and the Indian Ocean. It is set at the beginning of the 1980s when there were no mobile phones, home computers, internet or emails.
