

Making Sense of Fatherhood: Gender, Caring and Work

As family and work demands become more complex, who is left holding the baby? Tina Miller explores mens experiences of fatherhood and provides unique insights into paternal caring, changing masculinities and mens relations to paid work. She focuses on the narratives of a group of men as they first anticipate and then experience fatherhood for the first time. Her original, longitudinal research contributes to contemporary theories of gender against a backdrop of societal and policy change. The mens journeys into fatherhood are both similar and varied, and they illuminate just how deeply gender permeates individual lives, everyday practices and societal assumptions around caring for young children.
