

Basic Principles of Consumer Credit Law

This book aims to provide an overview of the basic principles of consumer credit law in South Africa. Legal practitioners and law students who are not conversant with this area of the law will find the work particularly useful. It refers extensively to South African literature on the topic of consumer creditor law, which the reader may consult for purposes of further research. This edition contains references to a number of new cases, reported and unreported, as well as to recent writings on the topic. The authors have been teaching this subject for a number of years and have drawn on their experience in writing this book.
