

Unlikely as it may seem, the most productive farmland in the U.S. is in the Bronx; the second is in San Francisco. On the prairie, by the coast, in the wooded hills or within city limits, everyone can grow for profit anywhere, and this book reveals how. Earn up to eight times the average personal income on as little as one acre of land! Rent or own, anyone can succeed with small fruits, house plants, cut flowers, vegetables, ornamentals and many others. What a book! Its obvious this book was not written by someone sitting in an ivory tower. It comes from the trenches. From the school of hard knocks. Thank you for a superb job! -- Paul Otten Northland Berry News
