

The Heck Hypothesis

Thousands of crop circles have been discovered and recorded in this generation, but no interpretive key has been available until now. This book, unique in crop circle literature, deciphers 2,000 circles as signs of a sequence of comet strikes extending over the next 250 years which will contribute to repeated crop shortages. The extraterrestrial circle makers will be artificially directing these cosmic bodies to their impact areas, but before they begin they are revealing a large number of significant details about the whole process. Using the crop circles, plus biblical and personal prophecies, the author has derived approximate dates and locations for the global impacts.
