

A Revolutionary Approach to Your Final Salary Pension Scheme The message is simple: If you are a high earner, you could be better off transferring out of your final salary pension scheme. In business, risk assessment has become a way of life. Who can forget the outcry following the sub-prime mortgage fiasco?! But culture dictates you leave your retirement income in the hands of pension trustees and rely on the company behind your pension staying in business. There is another way... TREAT YOUR PENSION AS AN ASSET For years, both you and your employer have paid money into a fund that was supposed to provide you with a good standard of living during your retirement. This fund is rightfully and legally yours. It is an asset that could be worth more than the value of your house. What you cannot control, however, is the future value of the fund. The good news is that with professional help, you can take control of this fund by transferring it to a scheme that you do control. Furthermore, your spouse will not have your pension reduced by half when you die, neither will your children be left with nothing from your pension when you are both gone. You earned it - so do not let anyone take it away from you.
